

MUNICIPAL CLERKS' ASSOCIATION OF NJ "TAKING IT TO THE STREETS" ATHENIAN DIALOGUE SUMMER SERIES-EARN 3 CMC OR MMC CREDITS!

Would the people who work for you follow you into a burning building?

The Fire Department of the City of New York is one of the most effective organizations in the world. And the foundation of that success is an extraordinary code of leadership: "first in, last out." The senior officer on the team is always the first one into a burning building and the last one to leave.

John Salka, a twenty-five-year veteran of the FDNY who rose from rookie to battalion chief, knows firsthand the power of "first in, last out" leadership. His gripping stories come straight from the front lines and the toughest fires.

The Municipal Clerks' Association of NJ is putting a spin on Athenian Dialogue learning this summer by taking leadership learning to the streets of New Jersey. Our 2nd stop is being invited to the Springfield Twp. Fire Department where we will be spending the day in their training room. Will be joined by Springfield Fire Capt. Mastroeni and other members of the Springfield Fire Dept. along with Bill Ruch who is a certified Fire Academy Instructor & Risk Manager for Statewide Insurance. During our discussion during the day about Battalion Chief John Salka's book we will learn about a Fire Departments operation, the training needed for every fireman, the equipment needed for each fireman to go out on a call along with a tour of the fire department and trucks used. Bill Ruch will be providing us the same leadership training given to fire officials. We will also learn about Mayday calls/situations and listen to these calls used for training. This is a unique opportunity available to those who register!
